Aladdin
RESTAURANT

Nestled in the busy Syosset mall is the neighborhood mainstay, Aladdin. This stylish Mediterranean restaurant serves up a wide array of interesting, flavorful dishes from the Mediterranean region. Aladdin has a nice wine list and an inviting bar area that you can utilize while waiting for guests or a table. The cold and hot appetizers are interesting and enticing, and you'll want to try them all. I suggest getting the sampler of Babaganosh, Moroccan Eggplant, Dolma and Borani. Salads are freshly prepared. My favorite was the Israeli Salad, which contains diced vegetables (cucumbers, tomatoes and onions) with lemon and olive oil.

Aladdin offers a number of deliciously grilled kabobs, which are served with a Greek salad, basmati rice and vegetables. I really loved the whole grilled fish entrée. I tried the whole grilled tilapia, also known as St. Peter's Fish, which was flavorful and arrived with a wonderful scent of fresh herbs. Other whole fish selections you should try are Pompano, Rainbow Trout, Striped Bass, Red Snapper, Dorado and Branzino.

Aladdin also serves a number of traditional dishes and stews. Specialties include Ghormeh Sabzi, a traditional dish referred to as green stew with beef, vegetables and black-eyed beans and Gheymeh, which is a tomato-based stew with beef and split chickpeas. For you dieters, Aladdin has kept you in mind with their 'Lite Bites' selections on the menu. You can get a large Greek Salad with a choice of topping: chicken or shrimp kabob, gyro meat, falafel, lamb, gondi, ground beef or chicken kabob.

Aladdin has recently expanded from an adjacent smaller space and now has a full-service bar, which is great place to have a drink and relax.~mw
